PREFACE

The "Index to the Spirit of Missions" was compiled for the use of the Mission Study Class at the Church Training and Deaconess House of Philadelphia, by the House Mother.

Although every figure has been verified, there may be many mistakes in addition to the confusion caused by incorrect paging in some of the early volumes. The worst instance of careless paging is in Vol. 24, where the numbers from 305 to 340 are repeated, and the pages from 513 to 577 are called 713, etc.

Yet, with all its imperfections, we offer this work for the acceptance of the Church, with this three-fold hope:

1. That every diocesan centre and school may aim to have a complete set of the "Spirit of Missions" to be used for reference by students of missions ;
2. That this Index may be used as a key by such students, enabling them to send to the nearest centre for such volumes as they need for reference ;
3. That its use, by lessening the time required for research, may encourage authors of established reputation to give us books proportioned to the worthiness of the subject. Surely the pioneer Church in missions for colored people, and in the foreign field of China and Japan, and the one privileged of God to uplift the down-trodden Church of Greece, has a history worth writing.
